Lewes Chamber Music

Festival Coffee Concert Richard Strauss – String Sextet from Capriccio Op.85 (1942) Bliss – Oboe Quintet (1927). This coffee concert presents late Romantic music from elsewhere in the world. Like so many of his time, Bliss's musical studies were cut short by the first World War. During his brief time at the Royal College of Music he got to know the music of the Second Viennese School, but his post-war music tends more towards a more traditional romantic style. The concert begins with the prelude to Richard Strauss's final Opera, premiered in 1942 Saturday 16th June. 11am to 12noon. Coffee served from 10.30am Tickets £15 from Baldwins Travel or www.leweschambermusicfestival.com

Little Edinburgh Comedy

Festival For two days this summer (one in June & one in July), Little Edinburgh brings some of the most exciting comedians in the country to the All Saints Centre in Lewes as they prepare for the Edinburgh Festival Fringe. Each of these brilliant comics will preview their entire Edinburgh show for just £6.50/£4.50 or you can pay a ridiculous £13/£9 to see everyone who's on that day. First Act at 4.30pm. Saturday 16th June. Tickets from Union Music Store or www.seetickets.com

The Ollie West Band We Watch The World Turning UK Tour 2018

Lewes Live Literature presents a Double Bill - Pushkin's Half Hour and The Devils Playbook. Caribbean-British poet John Agard as you've never seen him before. An entertaining whirlwind spin on Pushkin's verse novel, Eugene Onegin, in which he plays all the parts. The double bill also includes The Devil's Storybook, featuring wicked musical settings by cabaret artist Annika Brown from John Agard's poetry collection, From the Devil's Pulpit. Tuesday 26th June 7.45pm Tickets available www.leweslivelit.co.uk for more info 07972 037612

Something Underground Presents

A Tale from Transylvania A new play written and performed by Rob Bateman A tale of heartbreak, mystery and unrelenting hope... Tom's sister vanishes one day without a trace. Desperate for information that may lead to her safe discovery, the time passes, agonizingly. Eventually, the police file her case away under 'missing persons'. Tom cannot give up hope - willing to go anywhere and to any lengths in finding her - he faces a dark underworld and the fragility of his own mind. After all, Tom sees things and people, that others cannot - all the time. Saturday 30th June 7.30pm start Tickets £10/£8 con. For more info and advance tickets www.somethingunderground.co.uk
